

CONGRESS HAS REACHED THE END

Adjournment of a Long Session.

Naval Appropriations Bill Provides For One New Ship.

The Senate Very Quiet After the Bailey Incident.

Washington, July 1.—An agreement was reached that Congress will adjourn at 5:30 p.m. today. The Senate and House committees met at 5:30 p.m. today to report on the adjournment resolution.

Washington, July 1.—When the Senate adjourned today at 11 o'clock for the adjournment session of this term of Congress, there were no incidents of the exciting scenes of yesterday. Mr. Bailey, (Texas), entered the chamber from the Democratic room soon after the invocation was pronounced and took his seat on the Democratic side. He was absent by Mr. Spooner, and they chatted together for a few minutes. Representative Burleson, of Texas, then Mr. Bailey, and had an extended talk with him.

Beveridge did not appear in the chamber during the early part of the session. After his chat with Mr. Spooner, Mr. Bailey left the chamber. Mr. Hale, (Maine), presented the report of the conferees on the Naval Appropriation bill and it was read without debate. This discussion of the bill.

Mr. Lodge, chairman of the Committee on Philippines, called up the conference report on the bill to provide a temporary civil government for the Philippine Islands.

The agreement of the conferees, which already has been published, was read in full.

Washington, July 1.—The House, which adjourned last night at 11 o'clock, met at 10 o'clock this morning with all the indications pointing to a final adjournment at the end of today's session.

Immediately after the approval of the Journal a scramble for recognition began. Members with small bills of interest to their constituency were exceedingly anxious to secure action upon them and a dozen of them were almost constantly on their feet clamoring for opportunity to call them up.

Owing to the fact that but one item in one appropriation bill remained in dispute between the two Houses, many members were fortunate.

Washington, July 1.—The conferees on the Naval Appropriation bill have agreed on a compromise on the disputed item as to building warships in government yards, specifically providing that one battleship shall be constructed in a government yard. The agreement was reported to the House and agreed to without division.

Washington, July 1.—Senator Bailey, of Texas, assaulted Senator Beveridge, of Indiana, last night, just after the Senate had adjourned from executive session. The Texas Senator was dragged away and separated from his opponent by some of those about the chamber. He was very angry and threatened severe harm to the Indiana Senator.

The episode was the result of a heated controversy which the two Senators had during the afternoon. Senator Beveridge had said Senator Bailey had made "an unprovoked attack" on Solicitor General Field, of the State department.

In executive session Senator Beveridge, like other Senators who smoke, took a cigar and took a seat on the Republican side. He was still sitting when the Senate adjourned. Senator Bailey crossed the aisle and dealt through the seats until he was facing Senator Beveridge.

"Beveridge," he said, "I don't want to have any trouble with you, but I want you to withdraw those words which I regard as making an unprovoked attack upon Field."

"I did not intend to insult you," replied Senator Beveridge, "and there is nothing in my language that you can consider offensive."

"Don't allow any one to say that I am a man, and that is what you are making the charge. Now, if you withdraw the words when I ask you, I'm going to make you withdraw."

Senator Bailey had been getting more and more angry and excited as the talk went on. He had been sitting down at the time of leaning against the desk immediately in front of Senator Beveridge. The latter, in reply to Senator Bailey's last remark, stiffly sitting in his chair, said: "I repeat I did not intend to insult you that I have nothing to retract."

FAIR TONIGHT; WEDNESDAY SHOWERS.

CITY

Asked to Make Donation

Toward Caring For Homeless Children.

It Is Likely $500 Will be Given.

It is probable that the city will donate $500 to be used in recompensing certain benevolent institutions that have been keeping some of Akron's poor children. The matter was referred to Mr. Seybold as chairman of the Finance committee of the Board of the City Commissioners, and he stated to a reporter for the Democrat that he was in favor of making a donation of some kind.

Nearly all the institutions in question are under the auspices of Catholic benevolent orders, whose purpose is to do good to humanity wherever possible regardless of costs. However, they have been helping Akron so much that they are inclined to believe that some help should be received from this city.

At present Akron has 44 homeless children distributed among the institutions, and while it is not compulsory that their keep be paid from the city, it is believed that a donation of $500 would be a very moderate and reasonable thing for Akron to do.

Among these institutions are the Home of the Good Shepherd, Cleveland; Father Baker's Home for Boys, West Seneca, N. Y.; St. Joseph's Orphan Home, Cleveland; Home for the Homeless and Orphans, Cleveland; Salvation Army Rescue Home, Cleveland; Home for Foundlings, Cleveland.

Mrs. J. C. Frank and Uncle Joe Kendall were before the Board Tuesday morning, making a plea for the donation and explaining facts. The members of the Board admit that the request for help is a reasonable one, and it is likely that it will be paid. The City Poor fund shows a balance of $5,300.

EXTRA SESSION WILL BE CALLED LATE IN AUGUST

That Is Gov. Nash's Present Plan and He Expects to Have a Municipal Code Passed.

Columbus, O., July 1.—Gov. Nash has informed the politicians who have been pleading for the calling of an extraordinary session after the election that no attention will be paid to their entreaties, but that he intends to call the General Assembly together in the near future to rectify the error made in passing the Rorer law, and to frame a new municipal code for the State. While not stating definitely the date he will fix in his proclamation, it seems very probable that Monday, August 18, will be the time when the members will gather in Columbus. The Governor said Monday that he would enjoy his birthday in peace. This anniversary comes on the 14th of August, and it seems most probable that the 18th of that month will be chosen.

He has decided upon a plan by which he hopes to secure quick acceptance of the new code bill. He intends to call in the leaders in the Legislature as advisers to aid himself and John W. Warrington in the preparation of the measure, and by this means feels certain that he can secure a draft which will be acceptable on the whole to the leaders of both House and Senate. In this he does not expect to consider himself to the members of the dominant party. Representative Democrats will also be called into consultation. There has been some talk of appointing a bi-partisan code commission to prepare the new measure. There is no authority for such action.

BOXING MACHINE.

Valuable Invention of a Diamond Match Employee.

A patent on a machine for boxing matches—a valuable device invented by Michael Paridon, of Barberton—was issued Tuesday. Mr. Paridon is an employee of the Diamond Match Co.

BUSY MR. SHELTON.

N. O. T. Has Added Light Department to His Duties.

Mr. J. E. Townsend has resigned his position as superintendent of the light department of the N. O. T. Co., and his department has been added to the duties of Mr. T. W. Shelton, mechanical engineer, who now is in charge of both the power house and the light department.

BOUGHT

Historic Clifford Inn.

West Virginia Man Will Improve the Property.

(Special Correspondence.)
Cuyahoga Falls, July 1.—D. O. Boyce, of Quinnimont, W. Va., has bought the Clifford Inn and will take charge July 15. He expects to spend considerable money in improving the hotel. Bath rooms and a bar will be added to the inn. The improvements will begin at once. Mrs. Marvin, who formerly managed the inn, will go to Richmond, Va., where she will make her future home.

WANTED TO SLEEP.

Pat Burke Resented an Interruption of His Rest.

Pat Burke, of Cuyahoga Falls, came to Akron, Monday night, and among other items of his shopping, he purchased a deckload of intoxicants, which later interfered with his navigation to the extent that he clambered into a B. & O. box car in the Old Forge, and would have slumbered there, had not Special Officer A. O. Heckathorne come along.

Heckathorne inquired into Burke's business and the slumberer awoke and gave fight, with the result that he was knocked down twice and then arrested. Burke was fined $2 and costs for intoxication in Police court, Tuesday morning.

BURIED IN THE MUCK AND MIRE

TRIUMPH

Which May Glorify Democrats.

John R. McLean Makes a Plea For It,

And Calls For a Union on "Sound Doctrines."

Columbus, O., July 1.—The following letter from John R. McLean has been received by the Executive committee to the Ohio Democratic clam bake:

"Washington, June 24.—1902.—To the Executive Committee Ohio clam bake, Columbus, Ohio:

Gentlemen: I am unable to cancel or postpone engagements made prior to receiving an invitation to the Democratic clam bake at Columbus on the first of July. This, though, does not keep me from taking pride in the success of your celebration. With the excellent management it has, with the well founded hope of victory that now inspires the Democracy, and with the spirit of unification now pervading, it cannot be a failure. I trust the proceedings will be of a character to stimulate the party to unite on sound doctrines, to employ all legitimate forces and to work earnestly and intelligently for a triumph which may glorify every true Democrat in the land. The enduring principles of Democracy are those upon which we must rely. No expedient or irregular inventions are required. If there ever is a time for apologies for Democratic existence, or for trifling with the cardinal faith, or for doubtful alliances, the present is certainly not that time. Sorry I cannot be with you for my own gratification. I can only extend to the enterprise my best wishes and congratulations.

"Sincerely,
"JOHN R. McLEAN."

Hon. Wm. Buchtel has donated several books to the reference department of the library at Buchtel college.

A Policeman Was Roughly Handled.

With Revolver's Help He Captured Two Offenders

And Landed Them Both In the Magic City Bastile.

(Special Correspondence.)

Barberton, July 1.—"What business is that of yours?" was the response when Officer LeFevre told John Thorp and Ben Kennel they were too noisy and must keep quiet, Monday night. Then ripping out an oath Thorp wrenched the mace from the officer's hand, knocked his helmet off into the mud, and threw him bodily into a field.

The affair occurred in West Barberton near Wolf creek, about 6 o'clock Monday night. In a trice, before the officer had time to recover himself, both men were on him and grabbing him about the body, told him to prepare for death as they intended to drown him.

Running to Wolf Creek they proceeded to give the officer the most thorough ducking he ever had. Adding insult to injury, and not satisfied with simply holding him in the water, the fellows half buried his head in the soft muck which abounds there and for a time Officer LeFevre thought it was all over with him.

At last, however, listening to the frantic pleadings of the officer, believing him to be thoroughly frightened and completely exhausted, they drew him out of the water and let him go.

ON THE KEEN JUMP,

Or How Rats Make Life Interesting For Some of the City's Pets.

"It will probably evolve itself into a case of the survival of the fittest," said Mr. Seybold.

"If so, it's a cinch that the rats will survive," said Mr. Wilson.

The members of the Board were discussing the zoological department of the city Tuesday morning, and the conversation drifted to the earnestness of life as dished out at present to the jack rabbits and prairie dogs donated by Mr. M. F. Anderson. They are kept under the band stand in Grace park, and are obliged to share their home with a horde of rats. The rats have been making things so lively for the city's pets that they are kept continually on the move, and are becoming reduced in flesh. Moreover, they are acquiring a wild, hunted look, and when a spectator peeps in at them suddenly they regard themselves as the victims of an impending attack and immediately go into hysterics.

Another phase of the situation is that so long as the animals are kept under the band stand the public will not have a good chance to view them, and the prospects for getting returns from the money expended in their keep is not such as to cause the taxpayers to send the Board bouquets more than once a week.

It was finally decided to remove the animals to a safe place and also one where the public will have a chance to see them.

Messrs. Seybold and Wilson are in favor of taking good care of the city's pets, but Mr. Houser—it would be well for the animals to keep their weather eyes toward him. "I suppose," he began, addressing Mr. Wilson, "that if the people wanted to put snakes up there in Grace park, you'd be in favor of them—they'd scare the public away."

"Snakes are not so bad," replied Mr. Wilson. "They have them in lots of parks. Keep them in cages, of course. Who ever heard of a park where the snakes were allowed to go skating around at will?"

Mr. Seybold said that if the Board really desired to do the city a good turn in the matter of placing animals in Grace park, it would not be a bad move to place two or three burros there for the amusement of the children.

Prospects For Large Summer Resort at Springfield Lake

Citizens living in the neighborhood of Springfield lake believe that there will ultimately be established a large resort at the lake, and, maybe, two of them. They have heard that the Canton-Akron Electric Railway Co. has purchased 25 acres of Mr. Jacob Briner, on the southeastern border of the lake, paying for it at the rate of $240 an acre, and that 51 acres, also adjoining the lake, have been purchased of Mr. Milton Weyrick by New York gentlemen. Springfield lake is one of the largest in Summit county, and its vicinity is regarded as a splendid location for a summer resort.

SOLDIER BOY.

Another Recruit For Uncle Samuel In Akron.

Chas. H. Rivers, aged 23, of this city, was enlisted Tuesday by Sergeant Donahue of the recruiting station for the coast artillery. He will leave Wednesday for Columbus barracks. There have been five enlistments during June, three for the coast artillery and two for the cavalry. Four years ago today Sergeant Donahue was with the 17th infantry in the fight before El Caney.
